

TARIFF DEBATE DRAGS SLOWLY ON

LONG SPEECHES WERE MADE YESTERDAY, AND THE SPEAKERS HEARD.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—The debate on the reciprocity agreement dragged on in the Commons until with a little attendance of the members. Long speeches were again the rule, only three being delivered. Mr. Lennox, South Simcoe, held the floor till six o'clock. The Maritime provinces were heard from for the first time at the evening sitting when Mr. J. B. Warburton, of Queens' Prince Edward Island spoke for a couple of hours and the remainder of the night was occupied by J. E. Armstrong, East Lambton.

There was no wealth of material added to the debate. Mr. Lennox repeated himself chiefly with reference to the arguments advanced by Mr. Macpherson yesterday.

Mr. Warburton said it would be a fine thing for the provinces down to Prince and for the Maritime provinces. He expressed the hope that the British preference would be increased to fifty per cent. and asserted that the loyalty argument was a cry of "Chambers."

J. E. Armstrong argued that the agreement would do serious injury to the number of Canada's industries and would be a menace to the imperial tie.

Lennox Continues Debate.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Mr. Sharp asked Mr. Lennox if at the recent conference at Washington.

Continuing the debate on the reciprocity agreement, Mr. Lennox (cont.) South Simcoe, said that it was not to be expected that any kind of excess in the tariff would be found in the reciprocity agreement.

better platform with which to face his constituents. He answered Mr. Lennox's statement that the United States would receive an advantage over the Dominion from the reciprocity rate due to the longer haul.

It costs more to bring our freight from Halifax to Prince Edward Island, and so it likewise costs more to bring goods from New York than from British ports.

Lennox Was Absent.

Replying to a statement made by Mr. Lennox to the effect that the agreement was really a conspiracy between Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier, and President Taft, the speaker said that it carried with it its own refutation.

As for the loyalty cry, it had been heard so often in the past whenever the Liberal government has introduced imperial measures that the people had learned to regard it as a cry of "self, wealth, and to pay no attention to it whatever. The loyalty of Canada, he said, is too robust and contains too much backbone to be destroyed by a trade agreement.

He was sorry to see the Conservative party early about as frequently because they to themselves a great justice when they argue that the people of Canada are of the kind that can be bought and sold.

Mr. Warburton said that he had never had much use for protection. He said that the worst feature of the system is that it deprives people of their own industry.

In this connection, he said, he would be glad to see the loyalty of those who were always waiting about the door of the government.

Mr. Warburton likewise regretted the talk that the reciprocity agreement would lead to annexation. In his opinion, the reciprocity agreement might perhaps develop in Canada a feeling in favor of independence, but never in favor of annexation to the United States.

Personally, he did not desire to see either Canada or the United States in a position of annexation, but would prefer that the Dominion would always remain an independent part of the British Empire.

J. E. Armstrong, East Lambton, also took the floor. He expressed his remarks by drawing a scheme for imperial trade. The meaning of confederation was the welding together of the British Empire. Everything was done to make the Empire a unit.

Mr. Lennox was very much of the opinion that the agreement would injure Canada's trade with Great Britain because we would buy there we sell. Then, a contradiction. But of course, it would be perfect madness to go on with such work as the Thorpe wool and the Maritime provinces and the Westland canal. It would impair our credit in Great Britain and it would not be possible to finance these schemes in the markets of Europe.

He would advise the people to serve at all hazards their British connection and strive for inter-imperial trade.

A. B. Warburton (Liberal), opened P.E.I. took up the charge for reciprocity on behalf of the island provinces. He did not believe in protection, tariff altogether under control of a permanent committee of Ministers of the Crown. No doubt the people of the island provinces, but he thought it would work ill for the farmers an adequate representation would not be secured without difficulty. In all matters of fiscal policy, the government should assume the full responsibility.

He did not agree with the argument of the Opposition that Canada should have well enough alone. That would eliminate any question of future progress. If Canada should leave well alone, the country would not stand still but deteriorate. As the Opposition had been wrongheaded in the reciprocity pact on the grounds of common sense, Mr. Warburton declared he would have to fly into the face of common sense in the circumstances, but he could hope for no would spell the ruin of the meat and packing industry, while Canadian millers would get the cut-throat from the West. The salt industry of Ontario would be ruined. The fisheries of the coast would be ruined by the American.

TOO MUCH GUN PLAY IN N. Y.

Many Homicides, by Shooting and Assault May Take Victim.

New York, Feb. 16.—Pistol "play" popularly expected to reach its peak in New York City, is one of the greatest menaces right here in New York state. In fact, the evil has reached such proportions here that a strong effort will be made to have the New York assembly pass a law restricting the sale of firearms.

George Feltz, a clerk in the corner's office, is pushing the proposed legislation, which if adopted, he says, will greatly decrease acts of violence in which firearms play a part.

State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan is introducing in the assembly the measure for doing away with the indictments carrying of pistols. He favors a law making it a prison offense to carry concealed weapons.

Nothing has so impressed the public as to the needs of such legislation as the recent lamentable killing of David Graham Phillips, the novelist, by an armed crowd.

CAN GERMANY STAND THE PRESSURE LONGER

Taxes on the People for Armaments
a Heavy Burden, Says Professor
Hilgen, Financially Ruined, Says
Great Economist.

Berlin, Feb. 16.—Is Germany capable of withstanding the financial strain of the growing armaments which are already enormous, but which are steadily increasing year by year?

The Fatherland has a standing army of 500,000 men and 2,000,000 in its reserves. It is rapidly attaining to a formal position among the major powers of the world. Last year saw an additional enormous sum devoted to the construction of dreadnoughts and naval vessels, with big guns, higher expenditures for improving the personnel of the navy and side by side with this enormous and increasing burden, a steady growth in the cost of maintaining the army.

The last scheme of taxation introduced by the administration in the summer of 1909 and accepted by the imperial legislature, so raised the taxation that there are many who declare the country has reached the limit of endurance.

Whether or not this is true is a matter of opinion. It is, however, a fact that in its contest for world supremacy, waged in competition mainly with England, now depends on money, and on money alone. Expenditure is certainly not far from being what it is seriously alarmed—where it will decide to build two dreadnoughts by every one which Germany undertakes. More than this, many English naval authorities, supported by influential bodies of capitalists, business men and patriots, are clamoring for the construction by Great Britain of twenty dreadnoughts of the new type.

men's wages having shown an average increase of 45 per cent. in twenty years.

Altogether of this growth in wealth and wages the professor deems that there has been a corresponding increase in the cost of living. The price of bread, he says, is not rising. The price of coffee, sugar, tea, cloth, and other commodities necessary for life are cheaper than they were a quarter of a century ago.

His statistics prove—or seem to prove—that the per capita consumption of wheat, when potatoes, meat, coffee and particularly beer, is now actually increasing. There has also been a considerable increase in the consumption of meat. Altogether the professor sums up, therefore, his question as to the laboring class's prosperity.

Can Spend Much Yet.

From the growth of the Fatherland's national wealth, the statistician comes to the conclusion that the country can continue to spend forces upon its army and navy without in any way neglecting the great problems of education and social reform with which it is struggling—not successfully, he adds.

In short, Prof. Hilgen believes that Germany stands a better chance than England of victory in the great international race.

NOTED PHYSICIAN DEAD.

Dr. Janeway, of New York, Had Many Famous Cases In His Time.

New York, Feb. 16.—Dr. Edward Janeway, credited to his profession with saving the life of Richard Kipley, a prominent businessman in New York in 1899, died at his home near Summit, N.J., yesterday.

At a physician in New York he had a long career, devoted as much to public good and charity as to his private practice. Hundreds of tubercular patients he treated free of charge and he had many advisory positions of a quasi-public character, including membership of the advisory committee during the cholera scare here in 1902.

THE NEWS OF SPORTS

EDMONTON DEACONS DEFEAT TABER 3 TO 2

In Game Promoted the Best Ever Seen in Calgary, the Edmonton Deacons won from Taber last night by a score of 3 to 2, and are now in the finals with Saint Mary's for championship. Twelve hundred people saw the game and longed for the teams took the ice, Sherman's rink was crowded almost to its capacity. The Deacons were the first to appear and they were soon followed by the Taber aggregation, who were greeted with enthusiastic cheers when they skated on the ice. The crowd was decidedly anti-Taber and the Taber skaters were cheered to the echo throughout the whole of the game.

The fastest game ever seen in Calgary was the verdict of the fans after the big game. The Deacons, who were the only phenomenal work of Allen in the net, which was the only southern team from seeing the score. The Deacons won the first period, they had much the better of the play and should have scored several more times. In the second period, they scored once and half the Taber team showed a previous reversal of fortune. They took the Deacons' defence was phenomenal. Every man played for all that was in him and seemed determined to force the Deacons to do as they would accomplish this.

During the first fifteen minutes of the second half, the Deacons were utterly demoralized, their attempts at winning were fruitless. The Taber forwards had the puck the Edmonton team, but the Deacons continued to shoot after they were ruled in on Allen, but he got them all and it was only from the ice in the net when the Edmonton Allender had the puck. The Deacons had the chance to break the Taber's defence. Two men on the Deacons line-up did the best work for that aggregation. L. Cook, who covered point, and the centre, Doc Barbour. In the first half especially, the rest of the team seemed to feed these two. They were relying on them to count. But although both men made many successful rushes, they were unable to penetrate the Deacons' defence, single-handed.

The Taber defence showed hard tactics in allowing themselves to be drawn out and thus giving the Deacons a chance to score. The Deacons were able to score in the net with disastrous result. In a last desperate effort to even the score, the entire Taber team with the exception of the goal tender, made a last charge on the Deacons. For the losers, L. Cook and Doc Barbour showed a brand of defence which makes them the best checkers yet, while hard, on the wing, showed up.

All the Deacons played splendid hockey in the first period. Gordon Barford rushes down the ice were a feature of the contest, while the defence played a very hard, hard checking game. But they did not play as effectively as they did when they had at different times this season, and if they had played the game which they put up in the first period, the Deacons would have won the aggregation on the home ice, the score would have been much larger. The line-up was:

Taber Goal Deacons
A. G. Cook Point Allen
A. B. Cook Point Bill Hanford
J. L. Cook Point Mulrhead
J. L. Cook Rover McGinnam
J. L. Cook Centre Gordon
Doc Barbour Left Des
Haid Right Des
Glendinning G. Hanford
Belfrage, A. Forbes, John of play, Doc Gilson.

Summary of play: 1. Deacons, Gordon Barford; 2. Deacons, McGinnam; 3. Half time, 3. Taber, Doc Barbour; 4. Deacons, Gordon Barford; 5. Taber, Doc Barbour. From the face of the ice took the puck down and passed to Barford, who shot and missed. McGinnam secured and almost immediately, having a hard time of it, he passed the puck to the right wing, Barford secured and on a swift foot from the side footed Cook, Deacons 1.

Deacons were now having the better of the play but Des missed a beautiful chance to score from in front of the net by shooting wide. Cook, who went up to the net, was secured, but Allen blocked the shot. Des, who was the best player for Taber, rushed the length of the ice, but could not score in on the goal.

Gordon Barford tried several long shots at right wing, making the goal man of that name on the team. The other forwards for Taber were the latter player made several brilliant shots, but Allen blocked them. McGinnam scored the tie from the face of Cook's rushes and by means of a fine teamwork combination with McGinnam, worked the puck right up to the net. McGinnam rushed in on the net, slammed the die in on the rebound. Deacons 2, Taber 0.

CITY CONFERS WITH HEAT AND POWER CO.

The proposals to sell Electric Power to the City and to purchase the information acquired are discussed—Offers Will be Put in Writing.

The conference between the public works committee of the city council with the commissioners and the Edmonton Heat and Power Co. presented by Chas. May and Mr. W. Eager, held yesterday afternoon, broke up after a meeting lasting an hour and a half without definite results having been reached. As a means towards arriving at a more exact understanding, however, Mr. W. Eager, who represented the Power Co., will forward to the civic committee, a full statement of the company's attitude towards the city, their financial propositions, and for their certain conditions under which complete data accumulated by the company as a basis for the offer made to the city would be divulged. This point was the rock on which they split on the one hand.

Mr. Eager insisted that the city should know what they were buying, that the installation cost of each separate part of the system was so to know the relation of cost price to the value of their purchase. Mr. Eager insisting that until the city should first make a tentative agreement they had no right to demand the confidential figures on which the company is proceeding.

Submits Four Propositions.

The meeting was held by Mr. Eager having four propositions before the city's committee.

1.—To construct a plant and sell the city under contract 10,000 horse power at $15 per horse power and more if required up to 20,000 h.p.

2.—To construct a plant and sell the city 20,000 h.p. at a flat rate.

3.—To construct a plant capable of developing 20,000 h.p. and sell it to the city for $1,000,000.

4.—To sell the city the company's rights to the city for $250,000.

The latter one was withdrawn before the close of the meeting.

The analogy with the Winnipeg power plant project, yet to many comparisons being drawn. The Winnipeg plant, capable of developing 20,000 horse power, is costing the city $4,000,000, though the possibility on the Winnipeg river are immensely superior to anything on the Saskatchewan. Along this track there was not much light.

An Outright Purchase.

On the outright purchase basis, Mr. Eager submitted to the committee the following figures, showing the cost per horse power to Edmonton:

Cost to the city $2,000,000.

To be paid by the city as follows:

$2,000,000, thirty-year, 4-1/2 per cent. mortgage.

Yearly Cost to the City for 20,000 Horse Power.

Interest on $2,000,000 at 4-1/2 per cent. $112,000.00

Sinking fund . . . 45,154.32

Depreciation of plant . . . 60,000.00

Operating expenses . . . 20,000.00

Repairs . . . 20,000.00

20,000 horse power cost per annum . . . $278,154.32

One horse power cost per annum . . . 13.91

At the expiration of thirty years the bonds being paid off by interest and sinking fund of $139,154.32.

Total annual expenditure $278,154.32

Less interest . . . $112,000.00

Less sinking fund . . . 45,154.32

Net . . . $119,954.32 $119,954.32

20,000 horse power cost per annum . . . $119,954.32

One horse power cost per annum . . . 5.99

Cost of Power by Sale.

This was followed up by a report of J. H. Macgregor, engineer for the company, giving the cost of producing power by steam or gas based on an analysis of the local "coal" cost, showing the advantage possessed over either of them, by water power.

At this point Mr. Boulton took a hand in the discussion by requesting the figure on which the offer was based; these Mr. Eager refused to divulge, claiming that such definite proposal must be made by the city, before anything could be done.

Mr. Boulton urged on the other hand that they were in a similar position to a steamship company who contract for a steamer to carry 20,000 people without seeing any of the plans or specifications on which it is to be built. He then quoted the figures submitted by Mr. Eager, stating that 10,000 horse power could be produced on the Athabasca river at some points not located at $15 per h.p.

What City Could Dispose Of.

The question of the amount the city could dispose of was just discussed. Mr. Boulton stated that 2,500 was their present consumption; 3,500 would be the demand next year; and reckoning on an increase in population in ten years, and on the use of electricity for the pump, 10,000 might be counted a fair estimate of the city's consumption at the end of three years.

Wanted Written Statement.

The discussion seemed to be leading nowhere when, Mayor Armstrong intervened, with the suggestion that the company's conditions be submitted in writing to the committee, otherwise it would be impossible to know just what they had before them. He suggested that the communication Mr. Eager include the agreement to consider the offer before divulging the details of the plan.

This seemed the best course to pursue and the meeting adjourned in the proposal and adjourned.
